

High Point Market Trend Report Fall 2025

PUBLISHED DECEMBER 2025

Overview

Welcome to our High Point Market 2025 Trend Report, highlighting the standout trends from the fall season.

Warmth, texture, and timeless style defined the market, with plaid making a bold return and green emerging as a versatile new neutral. While layered materials, rich textures, warm wood tones, and natural accents added depth and character.

Our curated picks showcase what caught our eye and where residential and hospitality design are headed.

Trends

GREEN IS THE NEW NEUTRAL

ALL ABOUT PLAID

TEXTURE TAKEOVER

WARM WOOD PALETTE

NATURAL ACCENTS

SOFT SHINE

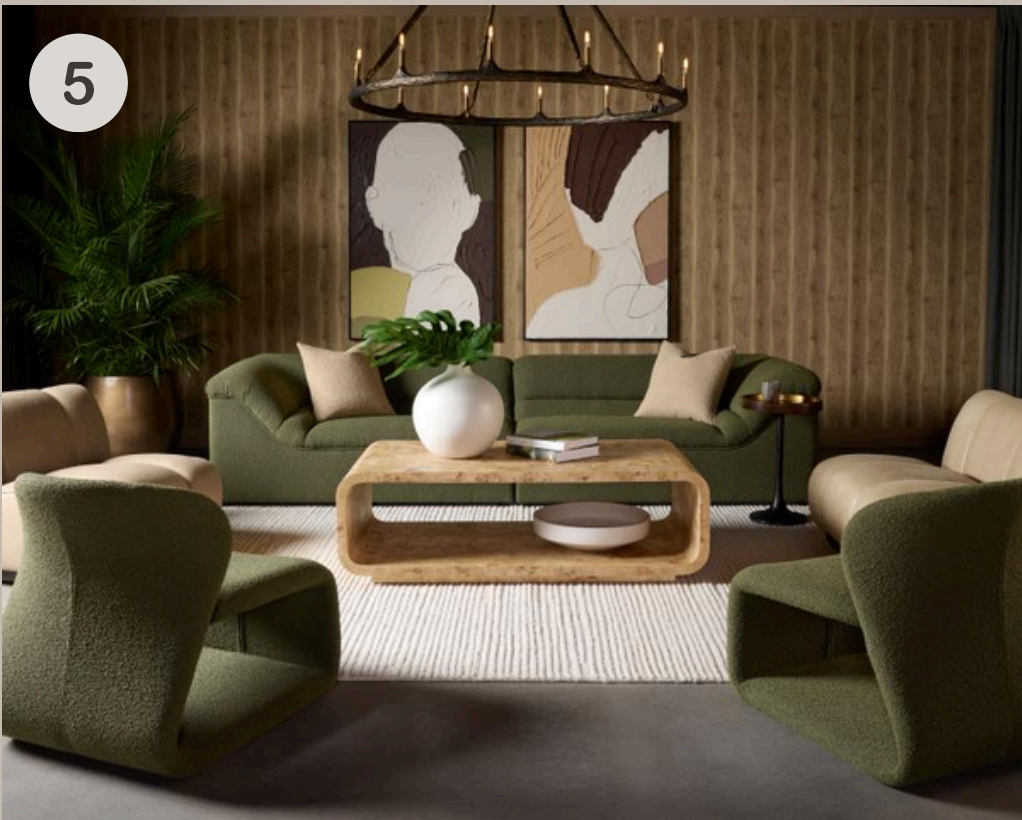

OLD WORLD CHARM

COZY CARAMELS

Green is the New Neutral

Green is taking center stage as the new neutral, adding a sense of balance to interiors. From soft, muted tones to richer, forest-inspired shades, green complements wood, natural textures, and layered materials, creating spaces that feel both fresh and timeless.

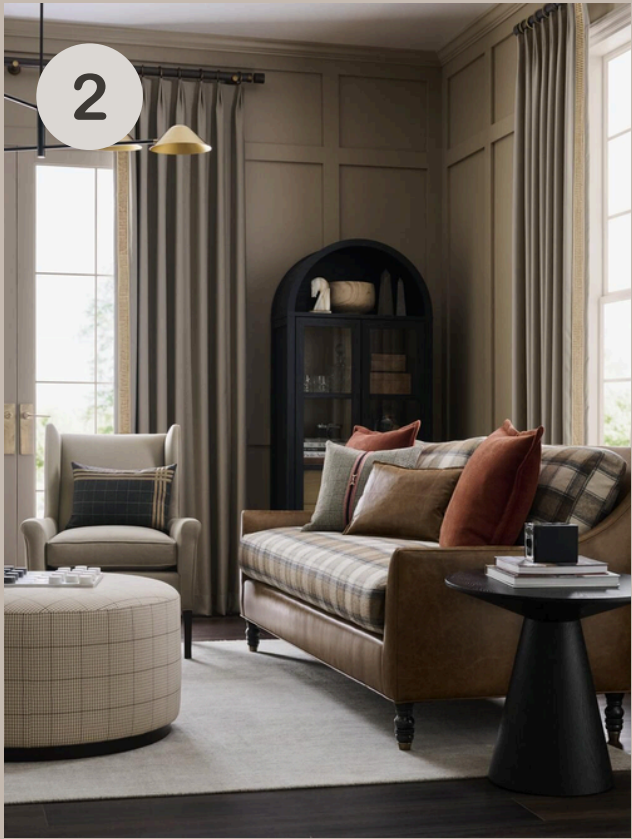

1. LEXINGTON
5. SUNPAN

2. HIEND ACCENTS
6. MERIDIAN

3. FOURHANDS
7. MERIDIAN

4. FOURHANDS
8. SUNPAN

All About Plaid

Plaid is making a bold comeback, from windowpane and tartan to all the classics, mostly in neutral tones. Clean and understated, these patterns bring layered depth and visual interest while complementing rich textures and natural materials.

1. HIEND ACCENTS

2. FABRICUT

3. EASTERN ACCENTS

4. LEXINGTON

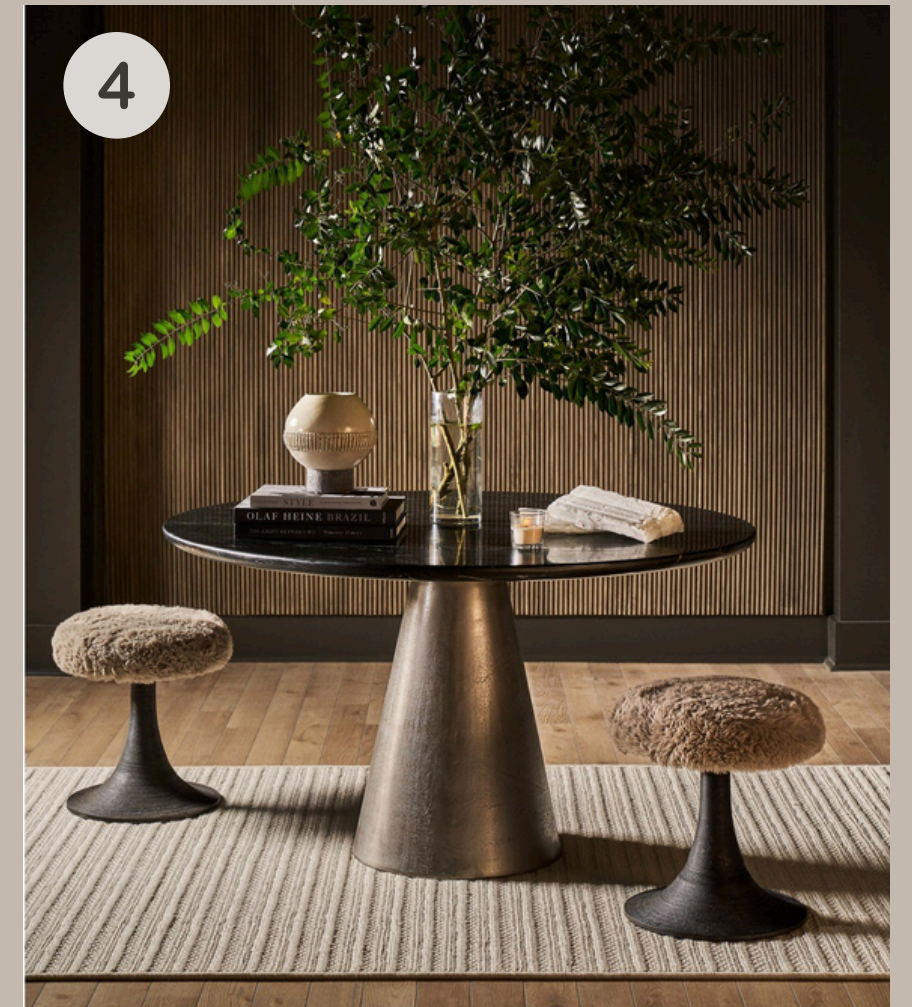

5. UTTERMOST

6. CRAFTMASTER

7. BURTON JAMES

8. LOLOI RUGS

Texture Takeover

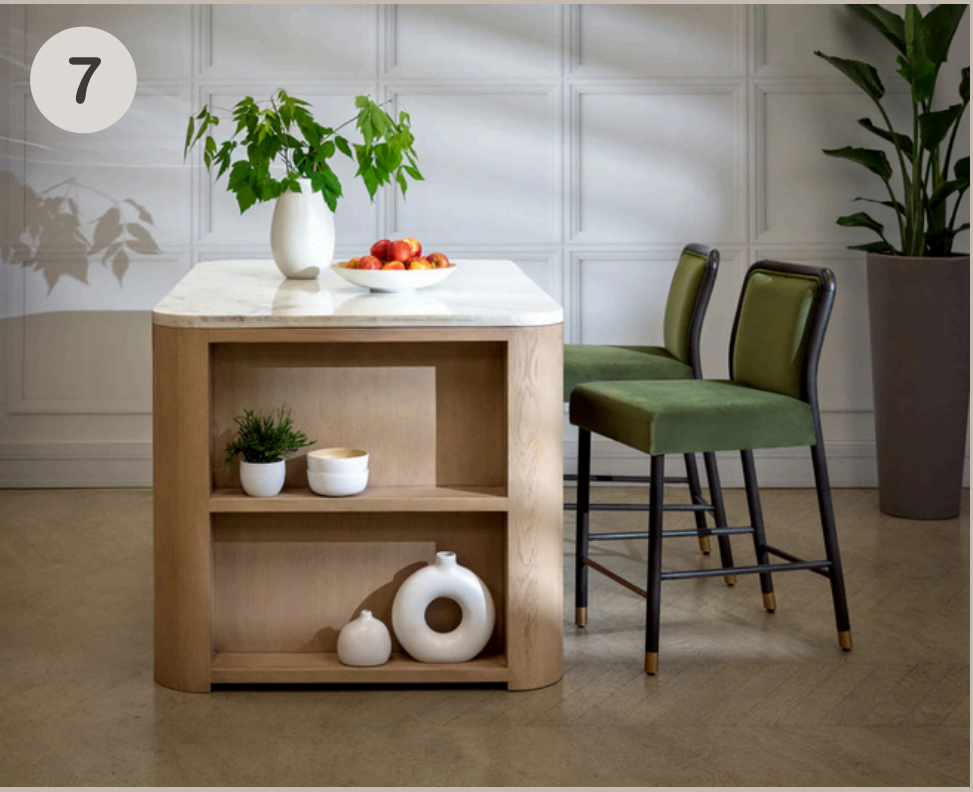

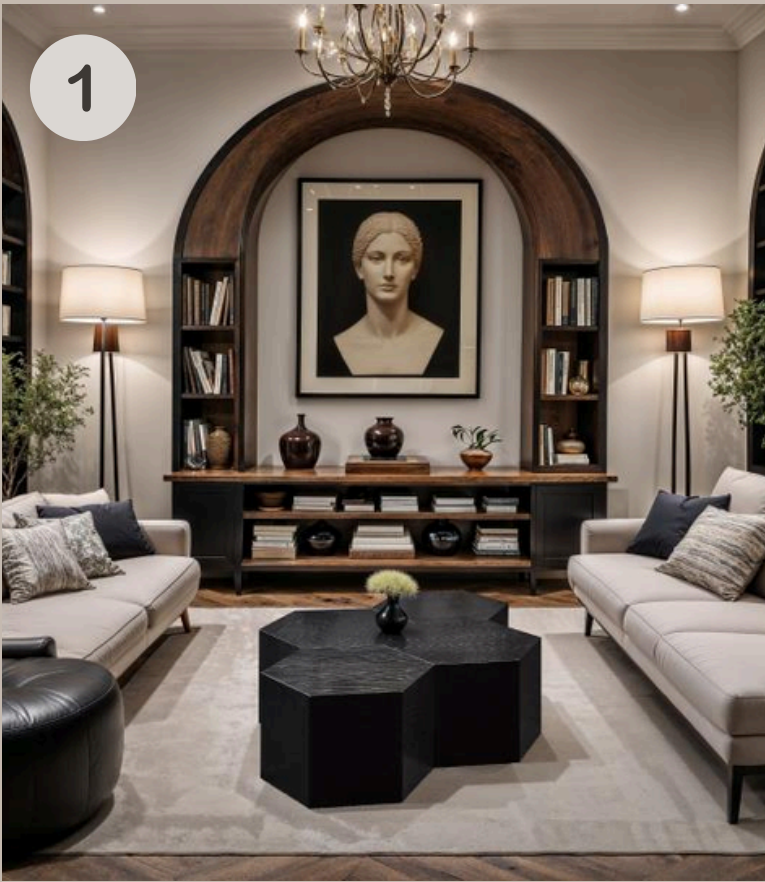

1. FOUR HANDS
2. REGINA ANDREW
3. ALTER AND TWEED
4. UNIVERSAL
5. BERNHARDT
6. CLASSIC HOME

Plush textures and layered materials defined the fall season, showing how fur and velvet can elevate both comfort and sophistication. Designers embraced soft velvets, cozy faux furs, and rich tactile fabrics to add depth and dimension to interiors. Moving beyond flat, uniform surfaces, these materials bring warmth and a sense of luxury to every space.

Warm Wood Palette

This season's wood palettes blended dark, luxurious tones with lighter, weathered woods that felt vintage and approachable. The contrast of rich and airy finishes added dimension and visual interest in every showroom.

- | | |
|---------------|---------------|
| 1. MERIDIAN | 5. FOUR HANDS |
| 2. REVELATION | 6. REVELATION |
| 3. UNIVERSAL | 7. SUNPAN |
| 4. ROWE | 8. REVELATION |

Natural Accents

Natural materials made a strong statement this season, with rattan, wicker, and cane appearing in unexpected ways—beyond traditional coastal and outdoor settings. Their range of natural hues (from light honey to deep walnut) adds subtle contrast, making every piece feel curated and intentional.

- 1. PALECEK
- 2. ARTERIORS
- 3. UNIVERSAL
- 4. UNIVERSAL
- 5. PALECEK
- 6. SURYA
- 7. HVL GROUP

Soft Shine

Metals took a subtle turn this season, trading high-gloss shine for brushed silver and gold finishes. Instead of stealing the spotlight, these finishes shape it, adding dimension and a refined edge.

- | | |
|-------------------------|--------------|
| 1. UNIVERSAL | 5. SUNPAN |
| 2. SUNPAN | 6. UNIVERSAL |
| 3. EICHHOLTZ | 7. BERNHARDT |
| 4. VISUAL COMFORT - AMB | |

Old World Charm

Heritage-inspired interiors made a strong showing, blending the tactile appeal of leather, the depth of wood, and the playful touch of game tables for a modern take on old world charm. Mahjong tables appeared throughout, often paired with rich, saturated color accents.

1. UNIVERSAL

2. CARBON DESIGNS

3. FOUR HANDS

4. CLASSIC HOME

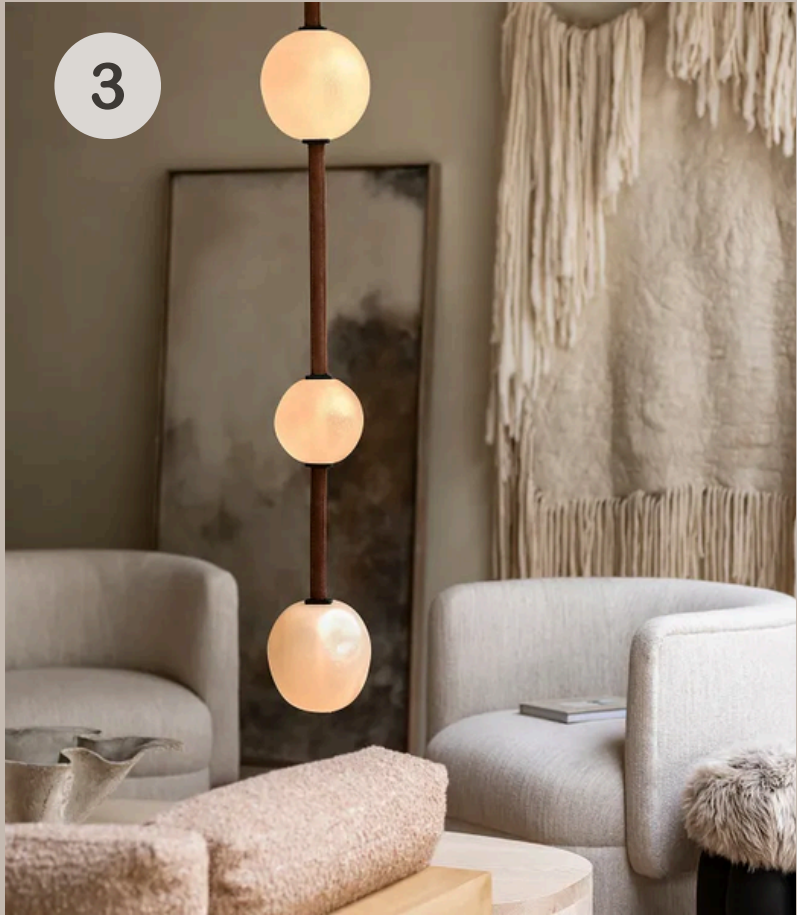

5. UNIVERSAL

6. REGINA ANDREW

7. LDN COLLECTIONS

8. BERNHARDT

Cozy Caramels

Warm caramel shades and saturated browns delivered a grounded richness across the showrooms. From buttery leathers to smoky wood tones, these colors reshaped familiar forms with a fresh sense of comfort.

- 1. CRAFTMASTER
- 2. JAIPUR LIVING
- 3. VISUAL COMFORT - AMB
- 4. LEXINGTON
- 5. SUNPAN
- 6. MERIDIAN
- 7. SUPAN
- 8. ROWE

Thank You

EMPIRE
OFFICE